Dr. Jun-Seok Oh

Osaka City University, Japan

He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Kwangwoon University, Seoul, Korea, in 2001 and 2003, respectively. He joined the International Doctoral Program in Engineering in October 2003 and received his PhD degree from Kyoto University, Kyoto, Japan, in November 2006. In April 2018, he joined Osaka City University as an associate professor. His current research interests are in the development of new atmospheric-pressure plasma technology based on optical and electrical plasma diagnostic techniques. Recently, he has become interested in plasma biomedical applications, especially investigating of the delivery mechanism of plasma generated reactive species through biological barriers. He is a member of the Japan Society of Applied Physics and a member of the Institute of Physics, UK.
